The screenshot shows a web interface for a dental cost estimator. At the top right, there is a "Return to Portal" button. The main heading is "I need a root canal". Below this, there is a "Network savings" section explaining that network dentists charge lower fees. The interface is divided into two main comparison sections. The first section, titled "Typical cost of a root canal at your dentist", shows a cost of $102.50 out-of-pocket for Sepand Hokmabadi, a General Dentist at 1880 Pleasant Valley Ave, Oakland, CA. The second section, titled "Typical cost of a root canal at nearby dentists in your network", shows a lower cost of $71.30 out-of-pocket for Michael Siu, a General Dentist at Western Dental Services, 11299 San Pablo Ave Ste. To the right of these sections, there is a "Current Benefits" summary for Melinda Szell, Delta Dental PPO, as of October 16, 2018. It lists a Calendar Individual Maximum of $1298.00 of $2000.00 available and a Lifetime Individual Maximum of $1800.00 of $1800.00 available, both with progress bars and "details" links. An "About This Visit" section is partially visible at the bottom right.

Network savings: When you choose a network dentist, the fee he or she charges is usually lower than the fee of a non-network dentist, since network dentists agree to charge set fees. The network savings is the difference between the typical submitted fee and the total amount paid by you and your plan.
